Building an all-weather portfolio

Economic scenarios

Strong economy

Cyclicals outperform (housebuilders, industrials, banks)

Economy muddles through

Tech & growth stocks outperform

Deep recession

Defensives outperform (consumer staples, utilities)

Diversification across sectors and economic sensitivity (cyclicals vs defensives) helps reduce exposure to any one economic scenario

4. Outlook

Outlook: a fork in the road

- COVID recovery & healthy consumer driving economic growth, supply chain bottlenecks and inflation
- The inflation debate has broad implications for monetary policy, interest rates and financial markets
- High quality companies with pricing power have historically outperformed in periods of elevated inflation
  - e.g. Mastercard and PayPal well placed
- Portfolio now has greater exposure to cyclical companies, which would benefit from a prolonged upturn (e.g. banks and homebuilders)
