

8 April 2022

BROKER HANDLING FEE ON MARLIN GLOBAL WARRANTS

Marlin Global Limited (“Marlin” or “the Company”) would like to advise brokers that it offers a broker handling fee in respect of the exercise of Marlin warrants (“MLNWE”).

The exercise date is 20 May 2022, and the exercise price is $1.18.

Marlin recognises there is an administration cost and time involved in the warrant exercise process for brokers and, as such, pays brokers 0.4% of the total consideration payable for warrants exercised per beneficial holder.

The company would also like to remind brokers that it has a long-term quarterly dividend policy whereby it pays 2% of average net asset value each quarter. All shares allotted upon the exercise of warrants on 20 May 2022 will be eligible for all future dividend payments.

Yours sincerely

On behalf of the Board,

Wayne Burns
Corporate Manager
Marlin Global Limited

Process:

If an advisor recommends the exercise of Marlin warrants and the holder agrees to exercise their warrants, the advisor will:

1. For individual clients (who are registered holders of warrants), request that they complete the “Broker details” in the online exercise form. By doing this you acknowledge that the broker has provided advice and that they may be paid a broker handling fee.
2. For clients in a custodial/nominee account, collate and summarise the information on clients electing to exercise their warrants through the advisor firm’s internal processes and complete one online warrant exercise form per registered holder, stamp the broker’s stamp box and add the advisor’s code. This and the associated payment are to be forwarded to Computershare by the exercise date.
3. Advisors can arrange with Computershare to direct credit funds to the Computershare bank account using a unique deposit reference.
4. Computershare will process the completed warrant exercise forms and payments and allot shares following close-off within four business days after the exercise date. The company may (but is not obliged to) extend the close-off date taking into account late receipt of exercise forms (postmarked on or before the exercise date).
5. Computershare will record the brokerage against the online forms accepted. If the box is not completed fully or accurately, Computershare will code the form “None” for brokerage fee calculation purposes.
6. Following approval by Marlin, total broker fees payable will be credited to Computershare’s bank account. Computershare will pay the fee to the advisor firm’s head office. A brokerage calculation report will be provided with remittance of payment advice (usually paid by direct credit) which shows advisor code and address, underlying registered holder application acceptance detail and brokerage calculated. Fee payments are expected to take place around 10 working days following receipt of the signed broker report.
7. Any queries relating to the remittance of broker’s fees to be directed to Computershare. If the coding as processed by Computershare is correct (i.e. matches the online form), they will not enter into any disputes that may arise with brokers.